A banquet will be held in honor of the winning team members and their advisor on Wednesday, February 1, 2012 at the Ridgeway Country Club in Neenah. Jim Injeski, President and CEO of EconomicsWisconsin, will present certificates, medals and a travelling trophy to winning team members and their advisor.

The Stock Market Simulation helps students learn how to invest in the stock market without using real money. Students manage hypothetical $100,000 investment portfolios as they compete for a trip to New York City to tour the New York Stock Exchange. Ten week games are offered each semester. A separate year long program runs each September to April. It is correlated to voluntary national and state standards in Math, Economics, Business Education, English Language Arts, Family and Consumer Sciences, Technology and Social Studies. The Stock Market Game is available to all public and private school students throughout Wisconsin. The program is offered by Economics Wisconsin, a 501 (c) (3) nonprofit organization. Since 1963, the organization has helped elementary and secondary teachers gain competence and confidence teaching about our free market economic system. Through its eight Centers for Economic Education located at universities and colleges across the state, the Milwaukee based organization provides resources to teachers to promote economic understanding and financial literacy.

For more information about the team, please contact (TEACHER NAME) at (PHONE NUMBER) or (EMAIL).
